All products will experience some discoloration when exposed to the elements for a sustained period. Degrees of weathering vary depending on geographical location, air pollution, exposure and other factors. Missouri Vinyl Products warrants that its products will "weather" in a uniform manner consistent with the weathering standards established in ASTM Specification F 964. Any weathering change that occurs on a specific exposed face of the product in a manner that varies from rail to rail producing an uneven look will be considered a defect. Color or gloss disparities arising from products having been installed in different years or involving the installation of accessories or competitive products which are incompatible with Manufacturer's products will not be considered a defect.

Manufacturer shall not be liable for any incidental or consequential damages arising out of the use or ownership of this product.
